Hi Don,

Actually, the petition may be one thing that hasn't changed. BUT, one thing that has slightly changed (at least our checkup and enforcement) is who can sign the petition. We (and by We I mean you and us) need to do our best at getting the correct person to sign these petitions. IF an "authorized representative" signs instead of the property owner, I need to see documented proof that they can sign the petition. AND that documented proof needs to show they are responsible for paying assessments. A simple "property manager" may not cut it for these petitions now. I would recommend, if you have absentee property owners, that you mail it to the owner.

Call me if you have questions.

-Thanks.

If you have a recent Petition Form you've used, can you send a copy top me? My form is older and if the Clerk's Office has updated, let's not reinvent the wheel. Thanks Paul.
